

From your perspective,
how do you think
technology and education
in the digital age can help
the empowerment of women and girls around the world?

Let's hear from some of Air Selangor's
top leaders.

Other than gaining access to vast information and knowledge, women and girls are able to support and inspire each other around the world. In sharing our voices, we are able to not just empower one another, but make an impact together, without borders.

Elina Baseri

Corporate Communication

Women are superb at managing time and multitasking between household chores and office works while the technology in the digital age has empowered them of being able to manage all these works just at their fingertips - and not just in their minds.

Mimi Nazila Nasharudin

Procurement

Technology and education in the digital age are interrelated and have no boundaries. We, as women of today, should leverage these advantages as they can position us to a greater height to achieve equity in every aspect of life.

Asrina Shariff

Human Resources

Digitalisation provides us, WOMEN, with equal access to world opportunities. We begin to build up our skills and knowledge which taught us to be more responsible and able to engage and express ourselves with societies across the world.
